WASHINGTON, NOV. 16. THE ATOMIC ENERGY COMMISSION NOUNCED THAT SUCCESSFUL HYDROGEN BOMB TESTS HAD BEEN HELD AT THE ISOLATED ENIWETOK PROVING GROUNDS IN THE PACIFIC AND SAID SCIENTISTS WERE PLEASED WITH THE RESULTS.

While the Commission did not say it in so many words, its announcement made it clear that America had exploded the world's first hydrogen bomb. The wording of the announcement suggested several might have been set off.

The Commission accompanied its report on the supersecret "experiments" with a warning to Russia that the United States would continue its studies looking toward development of the awesome H-bomb. It said lack of any effective and enforceable arrangements for control of atomic armaments demanded it. The Commission's statement apparently meant that the United States had beaten Russia in the race for the first H-bomb. US scientists have assumed that the Soviets have been working on such a weapon since their atomic experiments were successful.

Winter Arrives Suddenly

London, Nov. 16. West Europe shivered in grip of winter -- today with freezing temperatures and reports of heavy snowfalls in the north.

Thousands of skiers were out. on snow-clad mountain slopes in the Austrian Tyrol where winter sports were in full swing. Danger of avalanches had passed because of an unusually severe front. Temperatures dipped to -16 deg. C (or 3.2 deg. F).

In Hanover, Lower Saxony, West Germany, traffic was held up until snow ploughs cleared roads blocked by deep snow. Cloudy skies and imhermittent snow squalls continue throughout Switzerland. Freezing temperatures in the. uplands have made mountain roads dangerous and drivers are warned to use chains. In Paris icy winds blowing under an overcast sky brought the temperature down to 6 deg. C (or 42.8 deg. F). Light snowfalls were forecast tonight in Paris and Normandy and morning frost in most parts of Northern France. In Copenhagen heavy snow this afternoon surprised Danes who do not expect such thick falls until late December.

In Holland sleet and rain poured from a cloudy sky with temperatures hovering, around freezing point. A white drummer 29-The first snow of winter fellyear-old Louis Bellson, Jr. in Brussels tonight as tempera-

Fun in the upper air

FILIE idea of having landing A stations, anchored in space, for rockets and other projectiles going to and from the moon, has been criticised on the ground that space is filled with meteors and other big bits of stuff flying at, say, 50 miles a second. These would smash the stations or islands to pieces. But Dr Strabismus (Whom God Preserve) of Utrecht has met this diffi-culty. He has suggested that the landing stations should be made highly mobile by being tethered to ambulating rockets. Space would then become filled with meteors and rockets and rocket stations perpetually dodging each other, and all supervised by a kind of robot polic, consisting of radio-controlled walls of air pressure. These would hurst at the approach of any object, and would thus give warning of imminent collisions.

THE hand shown today is easy to make provided you get off on the right foot. Also, by the way, provided that you know what to do with the left foot.

the hand was actually layed in a tournament in New London, Leonard Harmon, a New York expert, was declarer. Lennio known where to put his feet at a bridge table, so he did quite well with the hand.

West opened the eight of spades and dummy won with the king. Declarer began by taking the acc of diamond and ruffing a diamond in dummy. Next he hopefully cashed the uce of spades, discording a club from his hand. When West followed sull, Harmon brightened with relief and followed the ace of clubs and a club ruff. Now he tried to ruff another diamond in dummy.

Thus far, Harmon had started out in perfect style. He had a chance to go wrong, however, when East over-ruffed the dummy and returned the queen of spades.

If declarer now ruffed low, West would over-ruff; and a trump return would leave South with two losing diamonds. Nor would a high ruff improve matters in the slightest,

Harmon solved the problem by discarding one of his two losing diamonds on East's queen of spades. After this play, East could do nothing to defeat the contract. If he led another spade, South, would throw his last losing diamond, and could

Weakness Of The Pen-holder Grip Exposed

Why The Japanese Table Tennis Stars Are Slipping

CHALLENGE FROM THE EAST WILL COME FROM HONGKONG

By A Correspondent

Nine months ago, the table tennis world was stunned. At the Bombay Championships Japan, who had not shown their colours for 15 years, walked off with the majority of the trophies.

And more startling than the fact of their success was the manner in which they gained it. For their players all used the 'pen-holder' grip, which had not been seen in the top grade game for 20 years.

SPORTSMEN SPORT AND

To Drop Team Games From Future Olympiads Not Likely To Succeed

Says - CORINTHIAN

London.

It is said that the International Olympic Committee may consider seriously whether to eliminate all team games from future Olympiads. As this would mean the dropping of soccer football, as well as hockey and basket ball, I take leave to doubt whether such a proposal will succeed.

Soccer may not be a money-spinning sport in Australia—where the 1956 Games are to take place-but in Europe it brings so much grist to the mill that most countries would shy at staging an Olympiad without it.

At the same time there can be no doubt that Olympic programmes have grown top-heavy. Far too many sports have crept in, with the result that 5,294 men and 573 women competed at Helsinki, compared with 260 male competitors and officials at Athens, where the Modern Games were first held 56 years ago.

The Olympic Committee are no doubt desirous of curbing the nationalistic tendencies aroused by the quadrennial festival as much as possible and they would be quite right in restoring it to its original basis of a contest between individuals and not countries. But to be logical they would have to drop also relay racing in swimming and athletics and eliminate the team championships in all other events.

Taxation And Production Provide A Dilemma

(FRQM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT)

London, Nov. 16. The House of Commons debate on the economic situation-which arose out of the Opposition motion of censure on the Government-did not produce any startling new information.

Mr R. A. Butler, Chancellor of the Exchequer, treated the House to another of his calm and lucid economic expositions and called attention to the very real improvement that has taken place in our external payments position since the Government took office last October.

The Government's financial and economic policy, he said; was framed to keep a balance between the dangers of strict deflation and runaway inflation.

The Chancellor was convinced that the increasing strength of Sterling-"the fact that we are no longer in imminent danger Australia, faced with fall- of failing to balance our overing demand from the long- seas accounts"-was largely due is to the Government's new and pushing trade with the determined measures in the field of monetary policy.

But, he warned, the task would not be an easy one. The problems of taxation and production do indeed place the Government in a dilemma

THE TROUBLE

The Chancellor said of the need to increase production: "We must continue with a selective policy of damping down home demand for capital goods for which overseas demand is high while not depressing home demand for consumer goods for which overseas demand has declined; and monetary and investment policies will be directed, as they have been to date, to achieving these

From The Files

We heard some time ago that the old Cornwallis, 74, was coming out to Hongkong, fitted up as a Hospital for the Troops. We now learn that, on her arrival here, the Alligator, Naval Hos-pital Ship, will be converted into the Port of Canton; negotiations for the cession of a piece of ground on Dance's Island for but ill success apparently.

Rescuèd

We mentioned in our last that, on going to pness at one o'clock on Wednesday morning, there were no tidings of the whereabouts of Lieut. De Lisle, Admiralty Agent for the Singapore, who, whilst walking with Mr Curling on the Kowloon shore, had been attacked by a gang of desperadoes, and left bleeding; so weak that he could not walk towards the boat, distant about a mile and a half. Shortly after midnight, it being very dark, and but very little known of the country traversed, Mr Superintendent May determined on desisting from further search until daylight, and returned to Hongkong. At four o'clock with the whole body of for day duty, he again etarted. and about seven succeeded in finding the cause of so much enoticly, - weak from loss of blood, but alive.

On the side of the Naval and Diplomatic Departments, there was a good deal of energy distion from Friday of Kwik played. Scoing the H. & C. Co. s. Steamer "Hongloong" up steam for her trip to Canton, Captain Massie sent to the Agent and requested that he might first tow H.M.S.
